

Live Chat Times for Online Courses at Brescia University

All online courses at Brescia University have a once a week required “live” chat time. During this live chat time you will be on the computer with your professor and classmates where you will go over presentations and have class discussions. It’s a great opportunity to interact with your classmates and ask questions of your professor. Please note that all of the times listed are in Central Standard Time, so you will need to adjust the time to the zone you live in.

Most of our courses are offered in modules lasting eight weeks each. Module 1 typically lasts from August to October, Module 2 typically lasts from October to December, Module 3 typically lasts from January to March and Module 4 typically lasts from March to May. Please note that some of our courses do last an entire semester, particularly modern language courses and most upper division social work courses.

Please NOTE: If you do not attend the first live chat session of your online courses, you will be administratively dropped from all of your online courses.
